

Linear decodability can survive removal of compositional structure

A. Word order is largely unnecessary

B. Matched lexicon isolates decision clauses

